

Satellite radio fills a broadcasting void for me. The bulk of the terrestrial broadcasters in my area are subscribing to "canned" national programming anyway, and XM has much better coverage. I support them in their efforts to provide local information.